This price assumes all cabling (including telephone lines and separate data network for voice only) is installed and terminated correctly, as the above package does not include an ACMA licensed cabler.

Asterisk VoIP systems do not work reliably with faxing. Whilst work is being done to improve faxing reliability, it is best to run a fax directly connected to a PSTN line. Please contact us for further advice.

Listed price includes delivery and installation in the Melbourne metropolitan area only and up to a maximum of 15 hours total labour; additional charges will apply to installations in other locations and where additional time is required. We do not collect GST on these orders.
